COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—GENERAL TERM.—JAN & MASTERS OF VESSELS MAY SUE FOR FREIGHT IN THEIR OWN NAME.
 James Kennedy, Respondent, et al. David Ellis et al, Plaintiffs.

DAILY, F. J.—The Judge below dismissed the case upon the ground that the master, not being the owner of the vessel, could not maintain an action in his own name to recover for the freight. In this he erred.

In Clarkson et al. Eds & Co. v. Cowen & Co., Justice Woodworth stated that an action for the freight may be maintained in the name of the master, in the absence of sailing, for the benefit of the

The subject of the case, Charles J. Kane, is a resident of the city of Chicago, Illinois, and is a member of the United American Citizens, 10 North 3rd St., Chicago, Ill. (Entered among this class in Brown's excellent edition upon Amicus et Lase, page 16, who says: "A capital case for freight may come in his name to enforce a contract entered into by him as agent, as he has an interest in the contract.")

While pursuing the subject further, it is sufficient, upon these authorities, that the master in his character as such may maintain an action in his own name to recover for the freight.

The judgment should be reversed, with costs.

James C. Cleveland, Jr., for plaintiff and appellant; Adolphus J. Fetsch for defendant and respondent.

sition of mail matter, both letter and paper, whenever they reach here on time. The cause of the delay, as far as I can ascertain, is owing entirely to railroads failing to connect, especially at Buffalo and Dunkirk.

I am very respectfully yours,
